

CE SEAL

Eskudo Tempered has been certified CE; this document attests that the product is congruent with the relevant limitations of the Harmonized European Norm (hEN), and satisfies the six necessary requirements:

- Mechanical resistance and stability
- Safety in case of fire
- Hygiene, health and environment
- Safety in use
- Noise protection
- Energy saving and heat retention

The CE certification does not concern features which are not considered necessary requirements (e.g. appearance and odour).

The CE certification is not a simple apposition of a seal on products, it is a proper tool to accomplish a unified European market. Thanks to this certification, products in the building industry can freely circulate within the European Union, without the restrictions otherwise imposed by each Member Country. The only mandatory evaluation will be the CE Certification, based on the Harmonized European Norm (hEN). No Member Country can impose additional national measures other than those included in the CE Certification.
